

Immunization Information

It is the responsibility of the traveler to make SURE that the immunization requirements of the particular country being visited are met. Please visit the US Center for Disease Control's website to see what immunizations are required and what immunizations are suggested with plenty of time to spare before leaving the United States. You can access this information by:

- Visiting www.cdc.gov
- Scroll down under "For Specific Groups" in the center of the page, and select "Traveler's Health"
- Under "For Travelers," select your destination country and check the box next to "Mission / Disaster Relief"
- This will lead you to both immunization information and other potentially helpful travel tips.
